Sunday's Scrips

A Monthly Newsletter

Welcome to the inaugural edition of my monthly newsletter.
I'm glad you're here and hope you'll forward this to people who may enjoy it as well.

Whatcha Up To?

- I have two essays submitted for publication
- I have two short stories submitted for publication
- I'm currently applying for a Montana Arts Council Grant and The Granum Foundation Fellowship Prize
- I'm applying for a coveted spot in the Writing By Writers Boot-Camp this November 2023
- my mom was in town for the month of June and we went on the Montana Bookstore Trail!

What about you? What have you been up to this summer?

The Montana Bookstore Trail

I hadn't realize that "Montana is home to the most independent bookstores per capita than any other state." What a fantastic tidbit and makes me proud to be a resident. With my mom in town in June we were able to visit several bookstores in Butte and Bozeman. My favorite store so far has been Second Edition Books in Butte and my favorite passport stamp from Isle of Books in Bozeman. You can find out more about the Trail at their website here.

June Timed Writing Prompt Winner:

Stacy Hodo

Ode to Blue Door Winery

Huge blue door
oh what a bore
makes me want to snore
who lives there?
a big giant?
I don't care.
maybe a king?
Who's really quite something?
or it's a secret
To another land
far away oh how Grand Huge blue door
maybe I adore
if i just turn the knob
And believe in such lore
Huge blue door
You lead me to more
I see the wine pour and fire roar

Stacy Hodo has lived in the mountains of San Diego most of her life. She loves being a single mom, teacher, creative dreamer, and spiritual warrior.
